SLAYS SAY THEY WILL RETURN TO WORK

A large number of arrests of Homestead men were made yesterday. A very inter-esting feature was developed in connection with Jack Clifford. It shows the keen nature of the contest, and reveals one of the methods by which the locked-out men have endeavored to outwit their rich and powerful adversaries. It is a case of diamond cut

Attorney Brennen said afterward: "The supposition that Clifford had squealed is a great mistake. He was only pretending to give up in order to work the other side and find out what they were doing. We knew all the time what he was doing." Four other warrants for murder were issued yesterday, each charging the killing of J. W. Klein on July 6. The detendants are Hugh O'Donnell, Hugh Ross, Matthew Foy and his son, William Foy. Clifford, O'Donnell, Ross and the elder Foy are al-ready under $10,000 ban each on the charge of murdering T. F. Conner, a Pinkerton man, and Silas Wayne, a striker.

Will Apply for Bail To-Day.

Matthew Foy was arrested and brought to Alderman McMasters' office shortly after noon. He waived a preliminary examination and went to jail. An application for his release will be made to court this morn-

The charge of embezzlement against Mr.

Godfrey was taken up. B. F. Beatty, for-merly Supreme Secretary, testified as to the manner of keeping the accounts and of pay-ing out money. He signed warrants on the Treasurer, who issued a check for the amount. He said Treasurer Godfrey did not keep any books until June, 1891, after which time the Treasurer and Secretary

A. F. Sawhill, an expert accountant, testified that he had been employed by President Ball to examine the books of the order, and went through the accounts from June 1, 1891, to September 25, 1891. Up to the latter date he said he found a shortage of $14,233 24 in the accounts of Treasurer Godfrey. According to the books seen by Mr. Sawhill, that amount should have been in the Treasurer's possession in addition to what he showed that he had in cash. On cross-examination, when the witness was asked for detailed figures, he said he could not give them until he looked over his records, and the case was therefore adjourned for one week.

Contest Begun by Theater Employes Against Two Louses.

John and George Varley, brothers, who live at No. 149 Fourth avenue, are in the Central police station charged with malicious mischief. They are young men who post up theatrical lithographs, and they are accused of tearing down two handsome portraits of Thomas W. Keene, the tragedian. Their arrest is the outgrowth of the refusal of the managers of the Duquesne and Alvin Theaters to consent to the agreement entered into by the American Federation and K. of L. unions of theatrical em-

During the summer the theatrical em ployes, some of whom belonged to one and some to the other of these great rival organizations, entered into an agreement in this city, which they believed would end the long bickerings between them and result in their mutual benefit. The employes on the stage, carpenters, electric light men, scene shifters, etc., were to belong to the K. of L., and all who worked in the front, ushers, ticket takers, ticket sellers and lithographers, were to belong to the Federation. The result was that two scales were presented to each manager, and it was agreed by the members that if either scale was not signed the men belonging to the other organization would strike. The scale was signed by all the managers except E. J. McCullough, of the Duquesne Theater, and C. E. Davis, of the Alvin Theater.

The New Arrangement Repudiated. Mr. McCullough signed, some weeks ago, the K. of L. scale for the stage hands. It was a slight advance over the former season. He says that he signed it on the statement of his workmen that they had nothing to do with the movement to organize the ushers with the movement to organize the ushers and lithographers. About a fortnight ago a committee, representing the Federation, presented to him a scale for the front of the house. He refused to sign it. He did not consider ushers and lithographers expert workmen. The committee wrote to Daniel Henderson, in Chicago, and he sent this reply: "Gentlemen: In answer to your letter I would say, that if you will give me a good and sufficient bond, I will lease to you the Duquesne Theater for a term of years, and you may conduct it to suit yourselves."

vourselves. At the Alvin, Manager Davis signed, as he did for the former season, the Federation scale for the stage mechanics. Recently he was called upon to repudiate this signature, was called upon to repudiate this aignature, and to sign a K. of L. scale for the stage and a Federation scale for the front. This he has refused to do. It would cause him to lose nearly all his present employes.

The Struggle Will Come Monday, The managers of both houses are confident that their men will stick to them, and that they will be able to raise their curtains Monday night. Keene is to open at the Duquesne. The Knights of Labor say that their members at the Duquesne will strike, and the Federation people promise the same for their people at the Alvin. These strikes, if the occur, will not take place place until the last moment on Monday, and all preliminary work up to that time will be done

Yesterday it appears that some of the union men decided to begin operations. F. Hennessy, the advance manager for Keene, learned that his window lithographs were Mr. Hennessy at once made informations before Alderman McKenna, charging the young men with malicious mischief. The defendants were arrested by Detective

Robinson last night and locked up in the station house.

Manager McCullough says that he intends to show the men who indulge in such methods of coercion that they are running rigorously push all such cases. There are ikely to be lively developments in the contest before Monday evening.

The Mayor of Dayton, C. G. McMillan, sent in his eard to the big fellow and was promptly admitted. He shook hands with Sullivan, and gazing admiringly at the great chest and shoulders, the ponderous hands and muscuar arms, said: "You will win, sure, Mr. Sullivan You can't lose." That portion of Cincinnati's population given to here wership was out in full force when the train pulled into the Grand Cen-

Well Thought Of-Arguments of the Corbett Backers. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2 .- [Special.]-Most of the visitors have taken a run over to Bay St. Louis, and the general expression of opinion of those who went there and saw the pugilists was unfavorable to Skelly, Contrary to previous reports the San Francisco visitors seem to be generally favorable to Corbett, and think he will win. The Olympic Athletic Club, of San Francisco, which has several thousand members is said by them to be backing Corbett strongly and almost unanimously. Their argument is that Corbett is quicker and as clever a boxer as the world has ever seen, and while they do not undermate Sullivan's cleverness, they say what they saw of Sullivan in Sat "co that he cannot get into condition

Sullivan will arrive to-morrow night, by the Queen and Crescent. To avoid the crowd expected, arrangements have been made to take the champion off before the train reaches the depot and carry him Sullivan's car, and a hundred or so braced the quietly by carriage to his quarters. Rooms have been fixed up for Sutlivan at Mrs. gatekeeper to let them through. There were loud cries for the champion, and in response John amble to the steps of the car, removed his cap, and bowed his acknowledgements, withdrawing quickly, as abashed as a school boy. The crowd gave three cheers in his honor. While the train waited the sports from New York, Boston Green's, on Rampart street, immediately opposite the Young Men's Gymnastic Club and where he stayed before while preparing for the Kilrain fight.

McAulific and his party, consisting of Roche, his backer, Sheehan, who has trained with him, and Warner, Nelson and Crane will leave Bay St. Louis for New Orleans, Monday morning. McAuliffe is now two pounds under weight. Skelly will come over Monday evening with Reynolds, his backer, and his staff.

While the train was in the Cleveland depot, Sullivan sent the following message to his sister: Mrs. Annie Lennon, 85 Brooke avenue, Bos-ton, Mass.: Everything all right so far, on my trip uth. Good luck to all. John. President Noel on a Draw. President Noel, of the Olympics, says that when the men enter the ring they are entirely under the control of the referee. If, however, the men are fit to finish the fight, and wish to make a draw in order to save their reputations, the referee will in-form them that the club will not give them the purse or any part thereof. Entire satisfaction was expressed by the sporting men in the city at Mr. Noel's statement. Steady betting continues at the pool rooms, and some of the institutions of that kind stand to lose a great deal on the result of the fights. The favorite combina-tion to-day has been Corbett, Myer and

He punched the bag nearly all the morning, and spent the atternoon playing hand ball. His plans have been materially changed. He will go from here direct to Philadelphia at 12:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, in a special car. He will be accompanied by Billy

At Philadelphia the special car from here will be attached to the Corbett train. Corbett will make the trip to New Orleans in a combination car. He will sleep in the library section of the car. The Washing-ton Athletic Club will give Corbett a reception to-morrow evening, when his train arrives at the National Capital.

Manager Brady says the party may spend Monday night at Charlotte, N. C., se as to give Corbett a good night's rest. Manager Brady will see that Corbett trains actively all the way to New Orleans, excepting when he is resting. At New Orleans Corbett will be the guest of J. M. The applicant was represented by George Langbein, of New York, and Mesars. Wise and Minor, of Pittsburg, and the administrator by Ed J. Hartje. Mr. Hoffman testified that he was a native of Holland, is 65 years old and a first cousin to Father Mollinger. He said he two cities and many prominent citizens cousin to Father Mollinger. He said he did not know that the deceased priest had any brothers or sisters. Mr. Hoffman testified that he believed he was the only relative of Father Mollinger living in America.

The witness has a brother who is com mander of the Dutch forces in Java, and several sisters living in Holland. On cross-examination the witness said he had never seen Father Mollinger and had never had any communication with him. He only knew that the name of the deceased's father was Fritz, and had heard that his mother was the Baroness of Hellenburg.

Mr. Hartje offered in evidence the appointment of Mr. Meyer as administrate and the petition of the creditors of the deceased asking for the appointment of Mr. Joseph W. Koch was called for the defense, and testified that he had been the private secretary of Father Mollinger from 1876 to June, 1883, and went with him to Europe in 1880. Father Mollinger then visited his two sisters, Amelia, unmarried, living in Marstrael, and Frederika, mar-ried, living in Cologne. Amelia told Father Mollinger that his brother Franz urged him to visit Franz, but the priest said he would have nothing to do with him, After returning home the deceased corresponded with Amelia and sent a present Mr. Hartie offered photographs of Father Mollinger and his alleged brother, Franz Rudolph Peter Mollinger, to show their re markable resemblance. The portrait of Franz was objected to, and Mr. Hartje then was very poor and had a large family. She presented a letter from the brother to Father Mollinger, stating that a photograph Mr. Koch testified that the photograph of Franz bore a great resemblance to the dead priest. He said he had never heard the deceased speak of John de Vries Hoffman. Gregor Meyer, being called, produced a letter be had received from Freuerick Moldered by Chief Brown will be scattered about through the city. Chief Brown's Hopes. "With the copperss and the lime we hope o do considerable toward keeping the cholera away from the city," Chief Brown said yesterday. "We have just completed a most thorough examination of our city and we find it cleaner than it has ever been in my experience. The proposition to drain the rivers is of the greatest importance. The draining of the rivers will be a great benefit to Pittsburg, but it will be of still greater benefit to Allegheny where they get their water supply out of the river just below the mouth of the big Thirty-third street sewer. We will not be stricken with the cholera if cleanliness will prevent it," Chief Brown concluded. "I have never known the city o be so thoroughly aroused. Every official eems auxious to do something that may tend to keep out the scourge, and the people themselves seem to be thoroughly alive to the situation. The police department has been wonderfully industrious. Every policeman has been acting as a health officer. In fact each officer, day and night, has been required to make a complete investigation of the condition of his particular district, and the report, always written, has been disposed of as we have thought best. Know Where They Stand. "If the policeman's report refers to streets we have the matter referred to the Highway Department. If the report called attention to any other matter we have it referred to the Health Departvidence on the application of John de Vries Hoffman, of New York, to revoke the letters of administration on the estate of the late Father Mollinger, granted to Gregor Meyor. The Register reserved his greatest attention is required now and after they are drained and purified I think we will have done everything possible to pre-vent the disease from securing a foothold in this community." The emergency council, composed of the met yesterday morning in Mayor Gourley's office. All those present seemed anxious to go to the limit in their efforts to do something in the fight to prevent any en-croachment of the epidemic into this vicin-ity, and all united in one harmonious effort

Many Men at Work. Chief Clerk Bigomon, who represented Chief Bigelow, of the Department of Public Works, at the meeting, reported that he had a force of 375 men employed at clean-ing the streets and flushing sewers. Many of the men he said were working day and night. He believed that the general overhauling of the streets will be concluded within a few days. Chief Brown presented the reports turned in yesterday morning by the police. The documents showed the exact condition of every district in the city. The reports showed that the citizens generally are obeying the orders to clean up and that the police and the authorities are having little or no difficulty in getting at the real con-dition of affairs. The reports further showed that the disposition to clean up extended to the cellars and private sewers. In presenting the reports Chief Brown ex-plained the extent and importance and value of the information supplied by them. "The best evidence that everybody is interested," Chief Brown explained, "is the fact that disinfectants are getting scarce in every drugstore in the city."

Suggestions Accepted. Mayor Gourley read a letter which had been written him by Colonel T. P. Roberts, and which was printed in THE DISPATCH yesterday. The suggestions in the letter were adopted. The proposition to have the steamboats agitate the rivers after the wickets at Davis Island dam are lowered was also accepted and will be followed out. A meeting of the Coal Exchange will be held on Monday morning to arrange for shifting the coal in the harbor to permit of a nephew of the deceased, and giving the chamber of Commerce will be held on Mondatter, Franz, and his aunt, Frederika.

Last night the Allegheny Committee Public Safety empowered the chief of the Department of Public Safety to take whatever steps be considered necessary in his be of suggestions were made as to how he should go about the work. The ordinance creating the office of plumbing inspector was considered once more. Some of the bers objected to it on the ground that it might be perplexing to those who con-template building. It was suggested by one of the members that the office of build-ing inspector be created instead, and his work be made to embrace both, but no action was taken on this. The matter was referred to the sub-committee on health. It was also suggested that a special meeting of the Councils be called, but no motion was HUSTLING IMMIGRANTS.

The Foreigners Are Kept Moving When They Arrive in This City-The Authorities Will Take Action on the Subject. The westbound immigrants who pass through Pittsburg are being rushed through pretty lively at present. The average number going through Pittsburg is about 200 a day. On the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago immigrant train at the Union depot yesterday afternoon about 160 Swedes and Germans arrived. The train was due at 12:45, but was over an hour late. The western train was held for it, and all the foreigners but about 25 were hustled across the platform into the other train and whirled off for Chicago. The 25 who stopped here were bound for Mt. Washing-ton and other surrounding towns and were rapidly disposed of.

The West Penn handles none except when trains are switched, and according to the gateman at the P., Ft. W. & C. depot, there are no immigrants landed at that station. "About six weeks ago three Italians, two men and one woman, were here. They were bound for Ohio. The woman caught the first train out, but the men laid around the streets all night and left the next day. They are the only ones who have been here in a long while." Most of the Western traffic is handled by the P., Ft. W. & C., which has a big train daily.

An officer at the Union station said yes-Hamburg went through Thursday. "I talked with some of them," said the officer, "and I was told that there was no plague in Hamburg when they left that city on the 13th of August. They said they came direct to New York, but were at sea 14 days altogether, counting the four days which they were held outside New York. They said they had to wait until all of their baggage and belongings were inspected, and that most of their baggage was burned. Emigration from Europe should be stopped. THE RIVERMEN AROUSED. hief Murphy Makes a Tour of the River and Asks for Help, Chief Murphy, of Allegheny, made tour of the rivers yesterday. He was looking after the sanitary condition of the streams about the wharfs. Steps are to be taken to clean out the pest spots along both the Monongabela and Allegheny. The slow current caused by the back water from the Davis Dam is alleged to be the chief cause of the trouble. This allows the filth from the sewers and refuse from the garbage boat to collect along the banks. Lying there in the sun, these become veritable breeding spots for disease.

After examining the banks of the polluted streams, he made a round of the rivermen and asked for co-operations on their part in his efforts to wark off cholera. He received assurances of their desire to have the condition of things in their neighborhood proved, and was told that they would do all in their power to ald him in his work. One of the chief sources of polluting the water is the practice of dumping refuse in the water at night. It is reported that wagonloads of refuse material is brought down late at night from many of the city distance from the shore. This sinks to the bottom and is stirred up by the waves from passing steamboats. The stench arising from these places is something terrible.

This trouble has been now going on for al-most ten weeks or since the wickets at the Davis dam were put up. It is growing worse all the time.
